

THE POCHE WEEKLY RECORD.

SATURDAY, JUNE 1, 1878

The New York Mining Record, in an article on the "Dishonest Management of Mines," warns the people of this Coast that Eastern capitalists will not invest in mining stocks if the guilty are not punished after being found out, then proudly alludes to the punishment of several heads of Eastern corporations who have reformed and are now earning an honest living in various State Prisons in the East. We quote: "Here, in the East, we have shown the way to punish offenders against fiduciary trusts in the most signal manner. There are now in the penitentiaries of the several Eastern States, several bank presidents, and as many insurance and other corporation officials of the highest rank, whose offenses, compared with those alleged against the management of the Justice, are relatively trivial. Here, rigid inquiry has followed promptly after the exposure of reasonable grounds for it; conviction has promptly ensued upon proof, and no influence has been powerful enough either to stifle investigation or avert punishment commensurate with the offense. Is it to be flagrantly different on the Pacific Coast?"

The Hambletonian stallion Risingham, owned by Dr. James A. Schultz of Middletown, N. Y., was killed by his owner on Friday, he being considered unsafe to keep. Dr. Schultz says the horse was insane beyond a doubt. He was twenty-one years old, and for nineteen years had been a confirmed man-eater. More than twenty keepers have been crippled by him, and he has killed three persons outright. No professional horse-trainer could subdue him, and all system of horse-training and breaking have been tried in vain. (Baltimore Sun, May 9th.)

The horse may have been insane, but we don't think he was any more so than his owner, who kept such a dangerous animal for 19 years, knowing that it was at the peril of the lives of the horse's keepers. One of the twenty persons who had been crippled by the horse ought to have killed the insane doctor at the time he killed his insane horse.

The New York Engineering and Mining Journal says the shrewdest and most sagacious business men in the country to-day recognize the fact that mining investments, prudently entered into, are the safest and most profitable that capitalists can make, and they admit that "mining" will be the next "sensational" in financial matters. The very facility which this general appreciation of the profitability of mining investments is giving for floating, unsound and dishonest schemes makes it all the more necessary that prudent men should carefully investigate the claims and merits of any enterprises offered them before parting with their money.

The subjoined, taken from the Eureka Republican, explains why Charles de Young has gone to visit the Paris Exposition:

A gentleman who came up from San Francisco last evening informed the Republican reporter that it is pretty well known in newspaper circles at the Bay that the visit of Charles de Young of the Chronicle to the Paris Exposition was not inspired by a desire for pleasure. A husband with blood in his eye and the handsome and fascinating Charles couldn't find room enough to live in San Francisco. The only thing that casts doubt upon this story is the improbability that any woman, not absolutely starving, would allow one of the de Youngs to enter her house at any price.

The Modoc Indians, located in the northeastern part of California, have advanced rapidly toward civilization since being placed on their reservation in 1873, and after this year they will be able to get along without assistance of any kind from the Government. The S. F. Scientific Press says they now own 4,000 acres of land, on which they have built good houses, have fenced in and have under cultivation over eight acres to each person in the colony. They have 120 acres of wheat, 175 of corn, and 236 head of cattle, and have out 140 tons of hay. have plenty of poultry, etc. Fifty-nine children attend school.

Next Monday, June 3d, the Oregon State election takes place. There are three tickets in the field—Democrat, Republican and Greenback. The Democratic papers of Oregon are bitterly opposed to the greater part of the State ticket, which they claim was nominated by a corrupt ring of politicians. Most of the county tickets are said to be hopelessly divided by this ring, and unless like dissensions exist in the Republican ranks, a Republican victory is certain.

In 1873 the following prophecies for 1878, made by an English monk, were published in the Spanish papers: "New European Congress at Berlin, death of the Queen of England, new sharing of territory by Austria and Russia, disorders in Portugal, Poland and Russia and Cholera in France."

STATE ITEMS.

The Sun says Tybo is to have a military company.

The Silver State wants the Democratic State Convention at Winnemucca.

M. Y. Stewart of Bodie, by the death of an uncle in New Brunswick, suddenly finds himself a very wealthy man.

The Carson Tribune thinks Ormsby county has too little territory and wants to gather in Douglas county.

The "He," "She" and "It" of Tuscarora have joined hands. In other words Pollard and Marancy have "made up."

There is no disguising the fact, says the Sentinel, that times are dull and money scarce in Eureka at the present time.

The Ward Reflex says the District Court at Hamilton meets again June 19th, when the civil calendar will be taken up.

The Bodie Standard thinks that C. C. Stevenson, of Gold Hill, would make a good Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

The Gold Hill News says during the last month there has been an unusual activity in the transfer of real estate in Storey county.

Mr. Frett, a Hotel keeper of Silver City, who is suffering from abdominal dropsy, had taken from him 13 quarts and six ounces of water.

The Carson Appeal says: If we read aright the signs of the times, the selection of Bradley as the standard bearer of the Democracy, for a third term, is not to be seriously doubted.

The Virginia Chronicle says the Mexican Veterans of that city accepted the invitation of the Union and Confederate Veterans to join in the procession on the 30th of May, 1878—Decoration Day.

Eureka Sentinel: Sheriff Raum informs us that Finnegan never weakened up till the time he left him at State Prison. A life sentence to that institution is calculated to dispress the most hardened, but Tim was jolly to the last.

The Courier says the coyotes, which infest the surrounding hills, treat the people of Belmont nightly to music that would wake the ire of the soundest sleeper. A charivari is sweet compared with their howls that make night hideous.

The Virginia Chronicle charges that two aldermen were offered $150 and $500 respectively for their votes for Street Inspector. The aldermen admit that they were approached, but refuse to divulge the names of the persons who proffered the bribes.

Eureka Republican: Jimmy Miller, an old Pacific Coast Pioneer and for years a well known member of the sporting fraternity of Nevada, died on Sunday in San Francisco. Old White Pines will remember Jimmy. He was one of the first to go to that camp.

Mount Davidson is beginning to assume his mantle of gold. The Enterprise says once in three years the wild sunflowers bloom in such vast numbers that the whole mountain is of a golden hue. Many of the sunflowers bloom every year, but once in three years they all appear to come out.

The Times-Review has been informed that an important development has been made in the Leopard mine. The company have made arrangements for running ten stamps of the mill, which had been leased to the Hussey Company, and will run the other ten as soon as the lease to the latter company expires.

Elko Independent: A dispatch was received here to the effect that Mrs. Pollard had returned to the arms of her female husband and they are again living together as happy as clams at high water. "Oh, consistency thou art a jewel"—of which a woman knows nothing.

Tuscarora Times-Review: John Duval, who recently arrived here from Bull Run, gives cheering accounts of the prospects of that district. Considerable building is going on at the town of Columbia. A commodious hotel is being erected; a store and saloon is being erected by different parties.

Reno Journal, May 26th: Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, Judge Wright proceeded to pass sentence upon James Harrington, convicted of murder in the second degree, for slaying John C. Sullivan, at Virginia City in 1876. Harrington was ordered to stand up, and the Judge recited the facts in the history of the case. The Judge then sentenced Harrington to the State Prison for a term of twenty years.

Enterprise: Jim Orndorff has brought in $150, snatched as a brand from the burning, out of some decomposed rock lying below a quartz vein, situated on the west side of Mount Davidson. He took out the sum of money named above with a rocker, working but about five minutes. There are quite a number of very rich veins of gold-bearing quartz over on that side of the mountain.

The Carson Tribune says, in Cowing & Zabriskie's mine, situated half a mile from the Mexican dam on the east side of the Carson river, the richest kind of ore is found. It is refractory and cannot be worked except by the smelting process. We understand that smelting works have been erected at the mine, and that by next week the furnaces will be in active operation.

Belmont Courier: A middle aged man who arrived here from the southern country was sitting in a saloon, when the Catholic Church bell rang out the evening hour he jumped from his chair and exclaimed: "I'll be damned if that ain't a church bell ringing!" and turning to the rest of the company he continued, "Yes, gentlemen, I know now that I am in a civilized country; it is fifteen years since I heard a church bell ring." He came from Arizona.

Lyon County Times, May 25th: Harry Brown, well known to all residents of the south end of the Comstock, and especially of Silver City, died yesterday at his residence in this place. From his entry to town as a citizen he has taken an interest in the welfare of the place, and has particularly identified himself with the Miners' Union, of which association he has been treasurer for several years.

White Pine News: Mr. Lyman, of the King company, is busily engaged in the necessary preparations for starting up the company's furnace at the Three-mile House. Mr. F. F. Thomas, an experienced smelter and furnace man, will have charge of the works. Arrangements are made to haul water should the supply in the wells prove insufficient. The furnace probably starts up next week.

Ward Reflex: The Martin White Company having purchased Willow Creek and a large tract of land on either side of the stream, is now engaged in the work of fencing in three quarter sections (480 acres) of land, whereon a mill will doubtless soon be built. The company can be congratulated on the fact the water question has at last been settled, unless the creek fails, which is not at all probable. The company will be almost forced to build a mill at no distant day, as the smelting ore in the mine is running short while milling ore is abundant. It is Pioche over again in this respect, smelting was tried in that district but it would not work. The only difference is that they were not so persistent about smelting the ore as has been the case in Ward.

LATEST NEWS BY MAIL.

WASHINGTON, May 25.

The shape in which the Army bill will go to the Senate, and the vote of that body yesterday, in postponing the consideration of the Legislative and Executive Appropriation bill, in order to continue the financial discussion, together with the backward condition of the other appropriation bills, and the absolute necessity of either providing for the payment of the Fish Commission's award, before the final adjournment, or returning under a call of the President for the purpose before next November, have combined to make the termination of the session at so early a date as June 10th impossible. The Senate concurrent resolution proposing an adjournment at that date will come up for action by the House to-morrow, and the Democrats intend to caucus on the subject this evening. A determination will probably be reached again to postpone action upon the resolution, and very possibly to let it go over beyond June 10th, and thus expire without action, for many members argue that it would be unwise to place the House in the power of the Senate by returning the resolution with an amendment providing for final adjournment on any fixed day, no matter how distant, as they do not know what contingencies may arise to make an indefinite prolongation of the Senate desirable in a party point of view. On the whole, however, the general opinion points to a final adjournment not later than the first of July.

The amendments to the Army bill for the transfer of the Indian bureau to the War Department, and prohibiting the use of troops for civil purposes, unless specially authorized by act of Congress, were agreed to in the House to-day and the bill passed.

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.

A Galveston News special says: A new Lerdo raid is threatened by three parties of Lerdoists, numbering 800 men, under Gen. Garza Ayala, and Colonels Cristo and Martinez. Their advance is now within ten miles of this town. The Mexican customs authorities have come to this side with their books and records. The commander despairs of holding the place unless he is reinforced. Gen. Ayala made a formal demand for the place this noon. Three American merchants are in jail for refusing to contribute to the defense of the town.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.

Two more Russian officers arrived yesterday, and inspected the steamers California and Columbus. The California it is said, is intended to carry six guns of 11 inch Calibre, and the Columbus 5 guns.

NEW YORK, May 28.

Henry Ward Beecher leaves for San Francisco June 19th, for the purpose of lecturing throughout the State. Mrs. Beecher accompanies him. A World's Washington correspondent says: It is freely asserted that Key will be asked to resign, and a Southern Republican take his place.

DUNSMITH, Cal., May 28.

Three men broke into the rear door of T. Saraco's brick store, night before last, bound and gagged him, took from him the safe key, opened the safe, took what was in it, and then, at the point of a knife, compelled him to tell where he had hidden a lot of gold dust. The total amount taken was about $10,000, besides his watch and some jewelry in the show case. No clue to the robbers has been obtained yet.

LONDON, May 28.

Affairs at Constantinople begin to look less dangerous. The advance of the Russian cavalry to Pinarji, which the Turks understood to be an attempt to seize Pinarji, with the view of commanding the road to Kavak, is now disavowed by General Todleben. General Schvaloff, who ordered the occupation of Pinarji, is declared to have exceeded his authority and committed an indiscretion. The withdrawal of the Russians from Pinarji, and the news from the European capitals, have so relieved the previous tension that little fear is now entertained of an accidental collision. Both Russian and Turkish officers are indulging in pleasure excursions. The work of preparing fortifications is greatly relaxed.

The invitations to the congress issued by Germany, state in effect that the congress will meet in Berlin to discuss the treaty of San Stefano. Correspondents at Paris and Vienna say that the good offices of Prince Bismarck have been largely instrumental in bringing about the result, without humiliation to Russia or risk to England.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Post renders the following well-deserved tribute to Senator Jones:

Few men, if any, have made a brighter record or won more imperishable fame in the last decade than John P. Jones of Nevada. No subject since the foundation of this Government was more embarrassing, perplexing or difficult of solution than the monetization of silver and specie resumption. To some it seemed an impossibility, to others bankruptcy, and to all a conundrum. Half the press lampooned the idea as silly; the balance—doubting Thomases, political sages and theorists—wondered and questioned how, by legislation or otherwise, we could make ninety cents a dollar—and yet how easy, when you have a dollar, with which to make ninety cents. The sharpest intellects were confused with the jugglery and humbug of capitalists, brokers and stock sharps. When, in clear ringing tones, like the blast of a bugle, it became necessary for the Nevada Senator to announce that, "We have been legislating long enough in the interest of capital, of moneyed interests, of shoddy aristocracy; let us do a little legislation in the interests of the toiling millions," he struck the key note. The Grecian sculptor, in the three graces of Faith, Hope and Charity, associated and blended in one glow of artistic beauty the pride of all models and perfection of all masters. So he, out of confusion and a wilderness of difficulties, has reconciled three conflicting currencies—silver, paper and gold—and harmonized their discordant relations, made plain and easy resumption of specie payments, and given to millions of good citizens joy, peace, happiness and prosperity.

Tybo Sun, May 25th: From Hank Butterfield we gleaned the particulars of the following remarkable story: Sometime in the early part of the month a young man named Sam Kane went to Revelle with a team. While there he drank very heavily, and was under the influence of liquor when he started off. On the road from Troy to Blue Eagle ranch he suddenly threw off his coat and ran away from the wagon. As he did not come back Wm. Dooley, Billy Reynolds and Spooner got on their horses and started to hunt him up. After going a short distance they found nearly all his clothes which he had stripped off in his insane flight. They followed his trail for over 150 miles before coming up with him, finding a check for $63 and a $10 gold note he had lost or thrown away. On the fifth day they found him circling around in the sagebrush, still in a delirious condition. He had been without food or water for five days, and would certainly have died if opportune aid had not reached him. He was placed upon a horse, and taken to Billy Reynolds' ranch which was not far off, where at last accounts he was doing well, and rapidly recovering from the effects of his terrible tramp.
